CapPro Expands Industrial Capabilities Through Acquisition of Newberry Contracting, Inc.

TAMPA, FLORIDA • 6/4/2026

CapPro, LLC, the locally owned and operated holding company of Electrical Engineering Enterprises (EEE) and Flo Power & Substation Services (FPSS), today announced the acquisition of Newberry Contracting, Inc. from founder April Thomas.

Following the acquisition, the business will operate as Newberry Industrial, Inc.; a Florida-based specialty industrial contractor. Newberry Industrial, Inc. will continue to deliver full project lifecycle services to the utility, mining, aerospace, chemical and energy industries.

Founded in 2002 by April Thomas, Newberry Contracting Incorporated established a strong reputation through its commitment to employees, customers, and quality service across the industrial sector.

"Building NCI over the past two decades has been incredibly rewarding," said April Thomas. "I am proud of what our team has accomplished and confident that joining CapPro positions the company and our employees for continued success and growth. NCI has partnered with EEE on several important projects and our teams work great together. We look forward to servicing our great customers with more capabilities."

"This acquisition represents another important milestone in CapPro's long-term growth strategy," said Stewart Saad, CEO. "Newberry's operational expertise and strong customer relationships complement the capabilities of EEE and FPSS, allowing us to deliver expanded solutions and greater value to our customers and partners."

The addition of Newberry Industrial Services strengthens CapPro's ability to provide a multi-discipline single source delivery of industrial, electrical, and civil infrastructure solutions continuing CapPro's long-term commitment to invest in employee development, operational excellence, and customer service.

The integration of Newberry's operational capacity into CapPro's scalable platform enhances the organization's ability to build on Newberry's "trusted partner" approach with increased scale and resources while maintaining the long-term relationships and industry-leading service standards that have defined each company's success.
